Ministry of Advanced Education

Instructional Skills Workshop (ISW) Program
The ISW is a workshop designed to enhance the teaching effectiveness of both new and experienced educators. One or two peer facilitators lead this 24-30 hour workshop for small groups. Offered around the province at post-secondary campuses.

Facilitator Development Workshop (FDW) Program
The FDW is a five-day training event that prepares experienced faculty to lead the Instructional Skills Workshops. The FDW participants refine their teaching techniques through the mini-lessons and with guided practice and feedback, develop strategies for facilitating the group process.

Native Adult Instructor Diploma Program (NAID)
NAID provides learners with skills and training related to instructing Native adults. Applicants must have completed Grade 12 or equivalent, or obtain special admission by the NAID program coordinator. Students are required to complete six 30-hour modules and a 20-hour practicum.

Provincial Instructor Diploma Program (PIDP)
The BC PIDP allows those interested in Adult Education to acquire and develop instructional expertise. Students must complete six 30-hour courses and a final assignment that requires an average of 45 hours to complete. A student may request credit for prior knowledge and experience for up to a maximum of three courses. Course are offered at a variety of locations around the province.

Diploma in Adult Education
The Diploma in Adult Education Program provides advanced skills and knowledge in reflective practices, adult development and education, educational technology, educational management, communication skills (especially writing skills), and instructional techniques. Students must complete six core courses and two optional courses. A 3-week practicum is also required.

Course Transfer
The primary purpose of transfer is to increase student accessibility by facilitating student mobility between institutions. British Columbia's public post-secondary institutions support an innovative and extensive formal set of guidelines for both course and block transfer. Transfer arrangements and policies are complex and continuously evolving. A summary of transfer arrangements can be found online at http://www.bccat.ca/otg/program/adulted/credittransfer.htm. However, it is the responsibility of prospective students to seek pre-approval for any course transfer between institutions.

Transfer information that has been obtained directly from the institutions involved should always be taken as the most reliable.
